AJAX RSS IE Problem Operation Aborted

Posted by Colby - 2008/08/19 15:06

Hi I am trying to have the Camp26 Special AJAX RSS to be displayed in my top header. It works perfectly fine on Firefox but on any Internet explorer browsers I get the Operations Aborted error and it won't let access to my site.

I've read threads with the similar problems with other modules giving the same error and the problem seems to relay within the module. I know this because when I unpublish the page works fine.

Is there any fix or hacks to make this work in IE?

Any help will be greatly appreciated! THANK YOU :D

Hello Colby,

May I know your live site url? Maybe it is not only because of the module but also depends on the other extensions did you install at your site (ex: the template). To prove this thing please try to use the default joomla template and publish our module again.

Humm... ok well I just put in a new template to my site but the weird thing is it only happens when user logs into the site? It still is happening on my new template as well.

Live site www.proteinbid.com

Please I would love for your RSS feed to stay incorporated on mysite. But the amount of traffic viewing the site more then 60% of people use IE... (It's a shame..)

Any solutions?

THANKYOU!! :)

Let you know, that our ajax rss module is available for Joomla 1.0.x and Joomla 1.5.x. So what version of joomla that you want to use? But nevermind, we could understand your decision to use our module or not use it.

Good Luck and Regards :)
